After finally leaving the husband who cheated on her for the entirety of their marriage, she wants a change. Life in Cowboy Point with her best friend, helping him get his artisan dairy up and running, feels like the perfect way to figure out who she really is. After all, Boone is so sweet. So kind. She knows that he'll let her live in the apartment above his barn forever, if she needs to. And maybe she does. Boone has wanted Sierra for as long as he's known her. Even after she married a man he never thought deserved her, he figured he'd rather have her as a friend than not have her at all. Getting to spend all day, every day with the woman he can't have is challenging—but Boone is used to that kind of suffering. That's okay. He loves her enough to be her friend forever and nothing more. Until one night, everything changes. Boone finally has the chance to introduce his best friend to the man he really is, the man he's always been—the man who's been in love with her since the day they met. And he's prepared to show her that as far as he's concerned, they've always been made for each other. One kiss at a time.
