Many franchise opportunities exist across various sectors, including food and beverage, retail, and services. Investing in a franchise allows you to leverage a proven business model, receive training, and gain access to marketing resources.

Small and Medium Enterprises (SMEs)

Buyers can find SMEs in sectors such as hospitality, manufacturing, and technology, providing ample opportunities for growth and expansion.

Legal Considerations

Business Structure

Before purchasing, it is essential to understand the business structure of the company you are interested in. Common structures in Ireland include sole traders, partnerships, and limited companies. Each structure has different implications for liability, taxation, and regulatory requirements.

Due Diligence

Conducting thorough due diligence is vital. This process involves reviewing financial statements, contracts, and legal obligations of the business. Engaging legal and financial advisors can provide valuable insights and help mitigate risks associated with the purchase.

Contracts and Agreements

All agreements related to the sale should be documented in writing. This includes purchase agreements, lease agreements, and any contracts with suppliers and customers. Clear contracts protect both the buyer and seller and ensure that all parties understand their rights and obligations.

Financing Your Purchase

Securing financing is often one of the most significant challenges when acquiring a business. Understanding the options available can help you make informed financial decisions.

Bank Loans

Across Europe, brokering agencies for live-in care workers have become powerful players in reshaping welfare systems, transnational care chains and working conditions. This volume draws together the latest research on live-in home care for seniors in Europe, exploring processes of commodification and marketisation, the transnationalisation of care work, the private household as a workplace, and workers' contestation of the live-in care arrangement. It pays close attention to the economic and social inequalities, as well as state policies, that underlie this new migration industry, and the collective efforts to contest and improve conditions of work and care. Home Care for Sale documents the geography of care chains within a divided Europe - a geography that both complements and disrupts conventional understandings of international care chains between the Global North and South. A must-read for those interested in senior home care, social reproduction, migration, border studies and the workings and repercussions of neoliberal state policies. - Professor Géraldine Pratt, University of British Columbia
