History and Background

The Pomerantz Business Library has a rich history that reflects its commitment to providing high-quality business education and research resources. Established in the early 1990s, the library was designed to support the growing needs of business students and faculty at the university. Its name honors a notable benefactor whose contributions have significantly enhanced the library's offerings.

Over the years, the library has evolved to incorporate the latest technologies and methodologies in information management. It has transformed from a traditional library model into a dynamic learning environment equipped with modern facilities and resources tailored to the demands of the business world.

Key Resources and Collections

The Pomerantz Business Library boasts an extensive collection of resources that cater to diverse business disciplines. These resources include books, academic journals, databases, and industry reports, ensuring that users have access to the most relevant and up-to-date information.

Books and Academic Journals

The library's book collection features a wide range of titles covering various aspects of business, including management, finance, marketing, and entrepreneurship. Additionally, the library subscribes to numerous academic journals that publish peer-reviewed research, providing users with critical insights into current business trends and theories.

Databases and Industry Reports

Access to specialized databases is a hallmark of the Pomerantz Business Library. These databases include comprehensive market research reports, financial data, and business news. Users can consult resources such as:

- Business Source Complete
- ProQuest Central
- Statista
- Mintel

These databases are invaluable for conducting in-depth research and gaining a competitive edge in business studies.

Services Offered

The Pomerantz Business Library provides a range of services designed to support its users. These services not only enhance the research experience but also facilitate learning and professional development.

Research Assistance

One of the key services offered is personalized research assistance. Librarians are available to help users navigate the vast array of resources, develop research strategies, and locate specific information. This support is crucial for students embarking on major projects or theses.

Workshops and Training Sessions

The library regularly conducts workshops and training sessions aimed at improving users' research skills. Topics may include:

- Using library databases effectively
- Understanding citation management tools
- Conducting market research

These educational opportunities empower users to make the most of the resources available to them.

Utilizing the Library for Research

To maximize the benefits of the Pomerantz Business Library, users should familiarize themselves with its layout and available tools. Understanding how to navigate the library can significantly enhance the research experience.

Navigating the Library Resources

The library features a user-friendly catalog that allows visitors to search for books, journals, and other materials by title, author, or subject. Additionally, physical and digital signage throughout the library directs users to various sections, ensuring easy access to resources.

Study Spaces and Group Collaboration Areas

The library provides designated study spaces that accommodate both individual and group work. These areas are equipped with necessary technology, including computers and collaborative tools, fostering an environment conducive to learning and teamwork.

Digital Resources and Access

In today's digital age, the Pomerantz Business Library places a strong emphasis on providing online resources. Users can access a myriad of digital materials from anywhere, making research more flexible and convenient.

Online Databases and E-books

The library's online databases and e-book collections are extensive, allowing users to conduct research remotely. Students and faculty can log in to access essential journals, articles, and e-books relevant to their studies.

Virtual Reference Services

The library offers virtual reference services that enable users to connect with librarians through chat, email, or video call. This service is particularly beneficial for remote learners or those who cannot visit the library in person.

Support Services for Users

The Pomerantz Business Library recognizes the diverse needs of its users and has established various support services to address them effectively.

Personalized User Accounts

Users can create personalized accounts that allow them to save searches, bookmark resources, and manage their borrowing preferences. This feature enhances the overall user experience by providing a tailored approach to resource management.

Interlibrary Loan Services

If a resource is not available within the Pomerantz Business Library, users can take advantage of interlibrary loan services. This system allows users to borrow books and materials from other libraries, expanding their access to information significantly.

Conclusion

The Pomerantz Business Library stands as a vital resource for students, researchers, and professionals. Its extensive collections, comprehensive services, and digital offerings ensure that users have the tools necessary to succeed in their academic and business pursuits. By leveraging the library's resources and support, individuals can enhance their research capabilities and gain insights that are crucial for navigating the complex world of business. As the library continues to adapt to the evolving landscape of information access, it remains a cornerstone of academic excellence and professional development.

pomerantz business library: Strauss's Handbook of Business Information Hal P. Kirkwood, 2020-08-24 This new edition of Strauss's guide helps users to find current information for and about businesses of all kinds—both private and public, U.S.-based and international—related to finance, investment, industries, and entrepreneurship. Strauss's Handbook of Business Information is a resource for finding and understanding business information. It contains explanation and instruction on the key facets of business information and provides detailed descriptions of key resources within both broad and specific categories. It can be used as a guide to further understanding the what, how, and why of business information research. The changing arena of business information requires regular updating and awareness. This new edition has been thoroughly updated with three new chapters: Entrepreneurship, Competitive Intelligence, and Corporate Social Responsibility. Other additions of note include subsections on internet and mobile marketing and tax havens and related issues; coverage of new legislation (e.g., Dodd-Frank); and subsections on index funds, investment communities, regulatory bodies and laws, hedge funds, venture capital companies, assessing risks, robo-advisors, and more. The Handbook is for students, faculty, librarians, and information professionals looking to gain a broader and deeper understanding of business information. Anyone needing to gain quick exposure to business information needs and resources for solutions will benefit from the volume as well.

pomerantz business library: Curriculum-Based Library Instruction Amy Blevins, Megan Inman, 2014-09-26 The rampant nature of technology has caused a shift in information seeking behaviors. In addition, current trends such as evidence based medicine and information literacy mean that one time instructional sessions cannot provide our patrons with all of the skills they need. For this reason, many librarians are working to develop curriculum based instruction that is semester long or consisting of many sessions throughout an academic program. In addition to teaching, librarians are also becoming embedded in the curriculums they support by serving as web-based course designers, problem-based learning facilitators, or members of curriculum committees. Although it is fairly obvious that library instruction is important and that librarians should be equipped to provide this instruction, the majority of ALA accredited programs offer only one course on library instruction, the courses are only available as electives, and they are often only offered once a year. Librarians need to gain their instructional experiences through real life experiences, mentors, and of course, books like this one. Many books commonly discuss one-shot sessions and provide tips for getting the most out of that type of instruction. There are not as many that discuss curriculum based instruction in a section, let alone an entire book. Curriculum-Based Library Instruction: From Cultivating Faculty Relationships to Assessment highlights the movement beyond one-shot instruction sessions, specifically focusing on situations where academic librarians have developed curriculum based sessions and/or become involved in curriculum committees. This volume describes and provides examples of librarians' varied roles in the curriculum of education programs. These roles include semester long or multi-session instructor, web-based course designer, problem-based learning facilitator, and member of a curriculum committee. In addition to describing the roles that librarians have in supporting curriculum, the book describes how to carry out those roles with sections devoted to adult learning theory, teaching methods, developing learning objectives, and working with faculty to develop curriculum. Examples of library sessions devoted to information literacy, evidence based practice, information literacy, and biomedical informatics are included. This book is not limited to one mode of delivering information and covers examples of face to face, distance and blended learning initiatives.

pomerantz business library: World Guide to Special Libraries Marlies Janson, Helmut Opitz, 2011-12-22 The World Guide to Special Libraries lists about 35,000 libraries world wide categorized by more than 800 key words - including libraries of departments, institutes, hospitals, schools, companies, administrative bodies, foundations, associations and religious communities. It provides complete details of the libraries and their holdings, and alphabetical indexes of subjects and institutions.

pomerantz business library: Library User Education Barbara I. Dewey, 2002-05-09 ...Material presented here is replete with concrete new ideas not only for collaboration, but also for funding, training, personal involvement, Web-based instruction, and other concepts too numerous to mention. And the best thing about these ideas is that they are not the usual endlessly-discussed theories-these are ideas that have worked-and some which have failed-in the real world...Despite the myriad new works available today related to library instruction in general and information literacy in particular, none is devoted solely to collaborative efforts between teaching faculty and librarians. This is where Library User Education: Powerful Learning, Powerful Partnerships shines-just as in the real world, it's all about collaboration. -Angela Weiler, Portal pomerantz business library: Outreach for Music Librarians Scott Stone, 2019-01-01 Many music librarians are tasked with reaching out to their primary user groups, but don't know how to start this process, or need new ideas to spur them forward. Outreach for Music Librarians is a manual designed to provide immediate, practical help in the planning, implementation, and assessment of outreach projects. This manual is divided into three sections: (1) foundational principles to be kept in mind no matter the project; (2) an introduction to six different outreach projects with all the information needed to implement; and (3) case studies of outreach projects at four vastly different libraries. While this manual is aimed at newer practitioners, Outreach for Music Librarians provides such a wide breadth of information that even experienced music librarians should find new inspiration and should include it in their own collections.
