inner child healing exercises: Shadow Work Journal - 100 Days of Prompts for Healing, Self-Awareness and Growth Even Diem, 2021-09-27 What is Shadow Work? The shadow is a psychological term for describing everything we can't see in ourselves. This concept was developed by Swiss psychologist Carl Gustav Jung. Shadow Work is the dark side of our personality, consisting primarily of basic, negative human impulses and emotions like anger, shame, envy, greed, selfishness and the striving for power. We suppress many emotions, we don't want them to see the light of day, but there are times when we can't hide them and then our behavior can be very destructive. Many people cannot enjoy life, cannot build a lasting relationship or simply accept their past. Working with the shadow heals and makes us feel great and use our potential to the fullest. Isn't that wonderful? What is this journal? Shadow Work Journal is a complete guide for everyone - beginners and more advanced soul searchers. The journal consists of a special exercise 8 Steps To Healing- with this technique, you will work through all your shadows. Plus, there are 100 questions - one question per day to help you discover what's most hidden in your mind and past. This is NOT an ordinary blank notebook, it is a journey inside you that will completely change you and your life so far. Do you hear the words Think positive, Positive thinking is essential, etc. all the time? It is true that in order to feel good, we must avoid suffering and give ourselves pleasure. Unfortunately, this very often prevents our inner child from having a say. We consider negative emotions to be the worst and avoid it like fire. But it is part of our personality. We cannot change it, much less resist it. Negative emotions are also necessary and always carry a message. We must listen to them! We're not even aware of the dramatic effects of avoiding tech emotions constantly. But don't worry - with this journal, you will start working with them, learn to accept them, and understand what they are trying to convey to you. Who is this journal for? This journal is for everyone, for men and women. It is for those who know they need help and know their shadows, but also for those who are still unaware. This journal is for you if you: feel that your life could be better, happier and more valuable experienced very traumatic things in childhood or adolescence and you still have a hard time accepting it want to be better want some change want to find yourself and your values do not fully understand your behavior and feelings It is also a great gift idea for someone who struggle with some problems (e.g. financial or in relationship). This log book can be a trigger and change their lives. It's beautiful to be able to help someone. What will you find inside? 8 steps to healing - exercises and a step-by-step guide to working with shadow 100 questions from different categories, which gives you 100 days of journaling Plenty of space for your notes, thoughts and reflections at the end of the journal An explanation of what Shadow Work is Helpful graphics and illustrations Motivating and inspiring quotes What's more: Perfect standard notebook size, so you can always have it with you Completely different exercises than in all previous journals If you only have to buy one journal this year, let it be this one.
